

Shigeo Sugimoto

Professor,
Graduate School of Library, Information and Media Studies,
University of Tsukuba
Tsukuba, Japan

Shigeo Sugimoto is a professor of Graduate School of Library, Information and Media Studies, University of Tsukuba, Japan. He is currently the director of Research Center for Knowledge Communities.

He got BE, SE and PhD degrees from Department of Information Science, Faculty of Engineering, Kyoto University in 1977, 1979 and 1985, respectively. He joined University of Library and Information Science (ULIS) in 1983. In 2002, ULIS was merged with University of Tsukuba and became Graduate School of Library, Information and Media Studies of University of Tsukuba.

His research interests are in digital libraries, digital archives and metadata. He also has interests in international collaboration of information schools. He has been involved in major international conferences and served as a program co-chair for ICADL 2006 and JCDL 2007. He is currently a steering committee member for JCDL and ICADL. He is a member of Oversight Committee and Advisory Board of Dublin Core Metadata Initiative.