

Manu Kapoor is a Web Developer, and an entrepreneur. He currently works at a startup in the flower delivery business. Previously, he was the founder of a hyperlocal grocery delivery startup. He has worked on several website projects as a freelancer. Besides technology, there are several causes he cares for, social justice and gender equality being the top two. Manu has a master's in computer science and was a KL-YES scholar to Cincinnati in 2005-06.