

Jonathan Donald Syiemlieh

Associate Fellow

The Energy and Resources Institute

Mr Jonathan is a multi-disciplinary researcher with 8 years of diversified professional experience in the development sector. At TERI, he is working on research in the realms of climate change, conservation, indigenous communities, livelihoods, eco-tourism, and education, among others. Mr Jonathan has extensive experience engaging with local communities of the Indian Himalayan states of Uttarakhand, Himachal Pradesh, Sikkim, Meghalaya and Tripura. He was also the Young Researcher for the state of Meghalaya in 2017- 18 under the National Mission for Himalayan studies project with support from Integrated Mountain Initiative (IMI). He has also led branding, outreach and documentation of projects, including dedicated contribution to TERI's flagship annual publication, TEDDY. Mr Jonathan holds a Master's degree in Management from the University of Delhi.