

Dr Nabi Hasan
Librarian & Head,
Indian Institute of Technology,
Delhi

Dr Nabi Hasan is the Librarian & Head, Central Library, IIT Delhi. Earlier, he has served as the University Librarian of Aligarh Muslim University. He is the "FIRST NORMAN E. BORLAUG FELLOW FROM INDIA (PDF)" in Library Information Systems (PDF), trained in Electronic Library Resources Management at Cornell University, New York, USA. Winner of many awards, recently he has won the BONNIE HILDITCH INTERNATIONAL LIBRARIAN AWARD 2018 USA and also been conferred with the SLP-SLA Asian Fellow Award 2019. He is Member of many reputed external committees including National Steering and National Advisory Committees of E-ShodhSindu (eSS) Consortia, Govt. of India, etc. He has an experience of over 24 years of active library services and postgraduate teaching and has published 14 Books/composite Books and 130 papers/articles. He has successfully implemented many innovative library projects including three World Bank/ICAR assisted Library Information Systems Projects and currently is the PI of the Project on "Strengthening of Central Library." Dr. Hasan is currently the President-Elect 2019 of SLA Asian Chapter, Vice-President – IASLIC, Joint Secretary - ASIALA, and Executive Committee Member of Delhi Library Association.