

THE GREEN BOOT CAMP

Creative and exciting ways to involve students in online activities provide an effective getaway of limitless opportunities of overall development. TERI's GREEN BOOT CAMP is a novel idea that provides young learners an opportunity to sign up for a quick crash course on environment and sustainability issues. Several interactive tools will be used to engage with students. Along with providing a core learning experience, the camp will also inculcate an aptitude towards emotional and physical wellness.

What makes the BOOT CAMP a unique experience?

- An opportunity to enhance knowledge about environment and sustainability issues
- Unique model of creating awareness about the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)
- Flexibility to join the 'campsite' virtually from the comfort of your home
- A unique platform that will cater to the participant's holistic development
- An opportunity to interact with other campers and make new friends. It will definitely lift your mood and help beat away the isolation blues!
